

Mama Told Me Not To Come - A Justice Security Novel

A security company accidentally makes a mortal enemy of an insane Mexican drug cartel leader. Take four people that have been friends since college. Add a desire to protect others. Toss in a fun-loving look on life, and mix with a dash of a not-quite-by-the-book way of doing things, and what do you have? The partners of Justice Security. They are Joey Justice, after whom the company was named, Misty Wilhite, the love of Joeys life, Dexter Beck, the martial arts master and computer nerd, and Percival King Louie Washington, who bears a striking facial resemblance to a particular cartoon character. In this introductory story, the partners provide security for a society dog show, with unexpected death coming from an unknown source. They also provide security for a Heavyweight Boxing Championship that has no challenger, and they are hired to investigate the deaths of two innocent teens. Those deaths are tied into a government contract, and, through an unfortunate accident, they make a mortal enemy of an insane Mexican drug cartel leader. They are aided by their government liaison FBI Agent Marcus Moore. But with the situation turning darker by the minute, can these four unlikely heroes continue to stay alive? Inspired by the classic song performed by Three Dog Night, Mama Told Me Not To Come is an adventure that you wont forget! A note about this novel: the end is actually a teaser for the novel, Jackie Blue, which is story number three in the Justice Security series.
