

Crapkiller: A Prequel to the Solarian War Saga

She just graduated from the Space Corps Academy. Her first job: staying alive. Elfrida Goto was expecting a holiday on Ganymede. Not a vermin hunt. The colony is plagued by rogue genetically engineered critters, and the newly-minted Space Corps agents are expected to pitch in. Elfrida and her best friend take up the challenge, but the hunt turns into a nightmarish ordeal when they get lost in the subterranean caverns. And, worst of all they're not alone. In this explosive prequel to the Solarian War Saga, Elfrida Goto's first assignment takes her to the underbelly of the solar system, where nice girls finish last.
