

The Secret Ingredient (Missy Barrett Adventures Book 3)

Missy wouldn't dream of passing up a chance to visit her grandparents. Trips to visit them are always fun, but they're more fun when Grandma's making Nohkoms Artisan bread and chocolate chip cookies. But baking isn't just about making bread and cookies. It's about sharing and making memories, as well as discussing important matters. The discussion weaves its way through the meals made in Fat Daddy's Kitchen in Chicago and how Missy's Grandma and Grandpa first met. Then Missy shares a secret with her Grandma. Missy knows what Grandma's secret ingredient is. Do you know what it is?
